Another Bank Suspension.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—The Evening Post says at the opening of business this morning it was announced that the banking house of F. Schuchardt & Sons had stopped payment. The firm is one of the oldest and most respectable in business, but its credit has been somewhat under a cloud for the last two years. The causes of suspension date back to before the panic, the firm having been obliged to take securities on which it had advanced and which have since fallen in value. The obligations of the house consist of the usual paper, a small amount of which is outstanding, and of bills of exchange, all of which have been accepted. The losses will fall principally in Europe. It is expected that ultimately the creditors will receive full payment. The firm had little or no interest in the markets, and they are accordingly little affected.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—The suspension of Frederick Schuchardt & Sons, bankers and drawers of sterling on England, had a temporary effect on the stock exchange and in the gold room, but did not cause that violent perturbation which followed the suspension of Duncan, Sherman & Co. At one time gold touched 116¼, the highest point since 1864, but it quickly fell back to 115¾, at which it remained for some time. Subsequently it rallied to 116, but later in the day it receded to 115¾, at which it closed. Loans were offered at 6 per cent. Exchange was weak, and rates were reduced ½ cent. Sterling bills, sixty days, were quoted at 108½@108¾; demand, 109@109¼. Francs, 5.17½@5.15. Customs receipts, $400,000. Clearings, $30,000,000. Governments were dull and weak. Sixes, 1881, 118½; 5-20s, 1865, 114½; 1867, 114½; 1868, 115; 10-40s, 111½; currency sixes, 122½.

The Chicago Industrial Exposition.

CHICAGO, Sept. 11.—The Inter-State Industrial Exposition will be opened to the city last Thursday, under fairly under the most favorable auspices. The previous exhibition in the number of exhibitors and quality of the display and completeness of all its arrangements. The attendance since the opening has been very large, and this evening the immense building has been visited by not less than 5,000 people.

A Raid on Counterfeiters.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 11.—The American's Decatur, Ala., specialsays U. S. Marshal Baker arrived in Jamestown, with Z. Graham, of Guilmesville, Sumner county, W. S. Nell, Alex. and Geo. Sampson, and John Hanly, of Tuscaloosa, Alabama, charged with counterfeiting. H. B. Bowers, now under arrest here for counterfeiting, was the foreman of the last grand jury of Green county, steward of the M. E. Church and Superintendent of the Sabbath school. When arrested Bowers had on his person $700 counterfeit $5 coin, fractional currency and $300 counterfeit $10 and $20 legal tenders. Bowers, society and financially, is prominent and gave a bond of $5,000. The marshal from the middle district of Tennessee arrived to-day, having in custody W. T. Gordon, of Forksville, Tennessee. Gordon in this case has commanded the respect of the community by the frankness of that his connection with the counterfeiting was conspicuous. To-night U. S. Marshal Baker will carry the prisoners, 12 in number, to Huntsville, Alabama.

South Carolina Constitutional Convention.

RALEIGH, N. C., Sept. 11.—Following are the principal changes introduced in the convention to-day: Abolition of the office of Lieut. Governor; repeal of the poll tax as a qualification for suffrage; abolition of the office of solicitor and restoration of the courts of common pleas and quarter sessions; to prohibit intermarriage of races, and to give civil rights and social equality before the law, from the Democratic standpoint. The Republican side of the house introduced an ordinance that the convention should thereafter be called upon the question to be submitted to the people.

The Sioux Question in Indian Territory.

MUSKOGEE INDIAN TERRITORY, Sept. 11.—Gen. J. E. Smith, special U. S. commissioner, arrived in the territory to-day. He is on his way to Fort Sill to attend the national council now in session at Fishernunga, with a view to settle the future status of the colored people held as slaves by Indians before the enactment of the provision of the treaty of 1866 the Indians agree to pay the Choctaws and Chickasaws from the proceeds of the sale of leased land, west of 98° longitude, seven cents per acre, on $300,000, contingent upon their admitting the freed slaves and their descendents to the rights of citizenship and the holding of land in the nation, or failing in the Indians to do so, to remove the colored people at the expiration of two years, deducting that amount from their national funds and apply it to the expense of their removal. The Indians of the Indian nation which has not yet been settled now, as much dissatisfaction has been caused by the non-fulfillment of the treaty.

Indian Territory for Indians.

WASHINGTON, D. T., Sept. 11.—The general council of the Indian nations and tribes, which has been in session at this place, before adjournment passed unanimously repudiating the Okmulgee treaty. All concur in the principle that this is the country by many solemn treaties. If it must be by Indians, with a government suitable for Indians.

Damage of a Thunder Storm at Denver.

DENVER, Sept. 12.—During a violent thunder storm which passed over this city and vicinity, this evening the lightning struck a carriage in which were Mr. and Mrs. H. Peabody and G. B. Reed, temporarily paralyzing both gentlemen, killing one horse, crippling another, and demolishing the carriage.

CANADA.

The Graveyard Fight.

MONTREAL, Sept. 12.—Over 5,000 people visited the graveyards to-day, the vault in the protestant cemetery in which are Guilbord's bones, and his second grave in the Catholic burying ground. Considerable excitement prevailed among the hardened characters were seen prowling about the mountains. This movement is considered significant. Deadly pickets are out on the road leading to the vault.

WASHINGTON CITY.

A Meeting between Prof. Marsh and Secretary Delano, and What the Commission is Doing.

CHICAGO, Sept. 11.—A Washington special says Secretary Delano and Prof. Marsh met to-day, by accident, at one of the leading hotels and a lively conversation ensued. Delano insisted that Marsh was no better than he should be, and Marsh came back at him with his malicious misrepresentations. Friends parted the two excited gentlemen in time to spoil a good sensation. The Indian business, as conducted by the Red Cloud investigating committee, is slightly mixed. The prosecution is not yet out of that desirable feature that one would like to see in order to bring out the full facts charged against the management of the Indian bureau. In the first place, while there is difficulty in bringing forward sworn testimony that will justify an adverse report, the commissioners make great show of wanting to get through, so as to leave for home. They might leave at once, so far as any good will come of their continuance. They examined Bishop Hare five hours to-day. The worthy churchman said he had been present at an interview between Agent Saville and Professor Marsh, during which he had heard the former confess that a contractor sold cattle to government not weighing over eight hundred and fifty pounds each, while they were charged at the rate of a thousand pounds. This is the only point in the bishop's evidence that had any comfort for the prosecution. The balance of his testimony was to the credit of the Indian department people, and consisted mainly of what witness did not know about them. The bishop denied the statement sent out by the committee that he believed in Delano's innocence. The commissioners will examine Samuel Miller. Members talk of going to Philadelphia to examine W. W. Welch, as business will not permit his coming here.

Testing their Honesty.

The transfer of internal revenue supervisors, the New York men going to San Francisco, the San Francisco men to Richmond, and the Richmond men to New York, is in accordance with the new plans adopted by the internal revenue bureau to test the efficiency and honesty of officers. The recent discovery of frauds in California has led to the change.

The Red Cloud commission this morning began the examination of Samuel Bowser, in connection with the settlement of Indian accounts, and Professor Marsh and Commissioner of Indian Affairs Smith, were present.

Acting for an Emergency.

The secretary of the interior sent the following dispatch last night to Enoch Hoag, superintendent of Indian affairs, Lawrence, Kansas: "Proceed at once to Caddo and Wichita, Indian Territory, and ascertain why supplies are short at Fort Sill, and supply a remedy; and if any contractors are at fault, purchase supplies and employ transportation for the present necessity. Use every endeavor to have those Indians fully supplied at the earliest moment. The war department has been requested to supply immediate necessities, but do not rely on that source of supply. Proceed as I have much and was asked for, and report progress frequently by telegraph and letters."

Waiting to Hear from Gov. Ames.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—The attorney general had not up to noon received further word from Gov Ames, and in dispatch from the president mentions that he also is without further official advices from Mississippi.

Mississippi at Peace.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—Senator Pease, of Mississippi, telegraphs the attorney general that all excitement consequent upon the disturbances at Clinton has subsided.

The Indian Investigation—A Stubborn Witness.

CHICAGO, Sept. 12.—A Washington special says the Indian investigating commission spent the greater part of yesterday in the examination of Samuel Walker. He proved a very stubborn witness and produced an array of testimony of very convincing character. The manner of the commission toward Walker was not that of investigation but of counsel for defense of the government. They asked him all about his construction of the law bearing on Indian contracts, but did not succeed in compromising him or impairing the strength of the evidence he offered. Leaving five years 1871, 1872, 1873 and 1874 Walker became personally cognizant of the transactions of the Indian bureau while acting as secretary and clerk of the old board of commissioners, and he found, as the records will prove, that during that time, while the period of Francis A. Walker's administration, Secretary Delano Assistant Secretary Cowan and the commissioner of Indian affairs acted together in constantly violating the law, both as to letting contracts and permitting breaches of them, while assisting in the consummation of such transactions by facilitating the payments from the treasury. Mr. Walker referred to various fraudulent transactions in connection with Red Cloud and Whetstone agencies. He gave very voluminous support to all his charges in the shape of official documents and affidavits gathered on his visit to Red Cloud agency.

Strange Story of an Indian Agency in Montana.

A strange Indian story comes from Montana. It is charged that the government has paid $500,000 in ten years to support Indians who do not exist on American soil, and who have removed to Canada. The story, which is claimed to be authentic, is that before gold was found in Montana that country was inhabited by Blackfeet Indians. This nation is divided into three tribes—Blackfeet, Bloods and Piegans. It was the custom for the agents of these Indians to visit the country once a year, distribute his supplies, and return to the states the same season. As gold seekers began filling up the country, the Indians moved north into the British line. For ten years not a Blackfoot Indian and not over five lodges of Blood Indians have been on American soil, save in the form of parties visiting this side to steal ponies, or for the purpose of their trading at British posts, and are supplied by the Canadian government. There are still about 150 lodges of Piegan Indians, who spend part of their time this side the line drawing supplies from the United States, and they mainly live on British ground with the Bloods and Blackfeet. The reason they have not lived exclusively north of the line is that they have been at war with the Assiniboin Indians. But a treaty has been made, and within a year the Piegans will be off American soil. During the ten years past congress has annually appropriated $50,000 for the Blackfeet, Bloods and Piegan Indians, and agents have been sent to these Indians at a salary of $1,500 a year each. In the office of the commissioner of Indian affairs may be found returns of these agents for ten years for $50,000 per annum. With these returns will be found indorsed abstracts of issues to the Indians. Some of the names of the Blackfeet and Blood chiefs, signed to what purports to be receipts for immense quantities of supplies and inventories of goods, while not a solitary Blackfeet and not over one or six lodges of Bloods have been on this side the line for ten years, and during that time no U. S. Indian agent ever saw a Blackfoot Indian. These names have been put there by the agents for effect. An inspector visits this agency once a year. He sees a few Piegans about and is told the Blackfeet and Bloods are hunting buffaloes.

The Freedman's Bank.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—The commissioners of the Freedman's Bank say the depositors authorized agents to represent or act for them in paying dividends. They propose to dispense with all agents and pay from the Washington office direct. Of the $600,000 required to pay 20 per cent. there is on hand $515,000

Postal Changes.

WASHINGTON, Sept 12.—Postoffice discontinued—Sublimity, Marion county, Oregon. Postmasters appointed—Louis F. Holman, Milton, Umatilla county, Oregon; Marcus W. Walker, Warm Springs, Wasco county, Oregon.

State Line Steamship Company.

LONDON, Sept. 11.—Last evening's Echo says the directors and committee of stockholders of the State Line Steamship Company gave information to the company that they propose to offer their ships, which cost $2,319,069, for $1,275,000, and recommend shareholders to allow the amount of stock to be transferred to the new company upon payment of a considerable part of the proposed capital.

State Line Steamship Company's Story.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Austin, Baldwin & Co., 72 Broadway, agents in this city for the State line, were to-day interviewed by the Post reporter on the London Echo's story, and expressed surprise at its statements. They say there has been no such collapse of the company, to their knowledge. On the contrary, the vessel of Pennsylvania, of that line, is now on her way from the Mediterranean and will sail from New York on the 18th instant. Passengers and freight are now engaging for this steamer. Whatever changes may be effected in the organization of the company in the other side will not interfere with the regular sailing of steamers of the line, or business on this side. It is learned that the reorganization of the company is not a recent movement, but for six months past such a change has been contemplated. The State line has for some time in common with other steamship lines, transacted very light business, and some stockholders have believed it was maintained at a loss, and are desirous of closing its affairs rather than make a sacrifice. To this course however a number of stockholders objected, and the latter have been making efforts to buy the stock owned by dissatisfied holders, and it is believed the rumor of to-day may have been circulated in their interest

Grand Maneuvers of the German Army.

NEW YORK, Sept 11.—A special dispatch from Berlin states that the concentration of the two German armies ordered to participate in the grand autumn maneuvers will be effected on Monday, when the maneuvers will begin and continue during the week.

The Telegraph Defalcation.

LONDON, Sept 11.—The Times says the defalcation of the secretary of Hooper's telegraphic works consists in forging and negotiating a bill for $150,000. We believe an appeal will be at once made to the shareholders. No more capital to call up.

Bismarck's Daughter to be Married.

BERLIN Sept. 11.—A daughter of Bismark has been betrothed to Count Wendizaenlarborge, of the Prussian service.

Celebration of Michael Angelo's Birthday.

FLORENCE, Sept. 11.—To-morrow will be the first day of the festival to commemorate the birthday, 400 years ago, of Michael Angelo. The celebration will last three days, and will include services at the tomb of the great artist and unveiling of a monument in the square to bear his name. There have been many arrivals in Rome of distinguished Italians and foreigners to attend the celebration.

The Bosnian Difficulties.

BELGRADE, Sept. 11.—The Skuptschina has elected a committee to draft a reply to the speech of Prince Milan. This committee is wholly composed of members of the party of action, but the government is privately using its influence for a moderate address. The Skuptschina has laid on the table the Bosnian petition for aid. A thousand Turks recently encountered 60 Bosnians, and killed them all.

The Rebellion Spreading.

CETTIGNE, MONTENEGRO, Sept 12.—All the country between Servia and Montenegro is in full revolt. Fully 10,000 insurgents have taken the field. The towns of Pricpol and Plevlje are sacked and Turkish villages burned and Turks massacred. The Christian inhabitants have taken refuge in the mountains. The Turkish troops are demoralized and the insurrection is spreading on all sides.

General War Inevitable.

Montenegro is prepared for war and the wildest enthusiasm prevails. General war regarded as inevitable.

The Effort to Mediate.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 12.—The foreign consuls acting as mediators leave Mostar to day and will endeavor to see the insurgent leaders, whom they will inform that there is no hope of foreign aid, and will advise them to submit their grievances to Server Pasha. The consuls will reassemble Wednesday or Thursday at Stolatz and inform Server of the result of their mission. If the result is unsatisfactory Server Pasha will issue a proclamation assuring the redress of grievances on condition that the insurgents submit within a certain time.

Spanish Politics.

MADRID, Sept 11.—Dissension have arisen among the so-called conciliationists. In the cabinet council, after sitting six hours' duration, members were unable to agree, notwithstanding the efforts of Canovar del Castillo to prevent the rupture; the whole ministry resigned. It is believed Molines, Spanish ambassador at Paris, has also resigned. It is probable Senor Canavar del Castillo will form another cabinet, and the only changes will be in the ministers of justice, public works and foreign affairs.

MADRID, Sept. 12.—Discussions in the cabinet were on the decision of the majority that elections shall be held for the Cortes on the 20th of November. Senor Canovas del Castillo declined to open the Cortes November 28th, the day King Alfonso is of age. The king summoned the ministers to consultation last night. Del Castillo would only consent to preside over a liberal cabinet in order of conciliation. A new ministry was formed under Jovellar to-day. The following is the official list: Gen. Jovellar, president and minister of war; Count Alcola Galiano, minister of foreign affairs; Calvillo Collottes, justice; Duran y Lera Mavino Salamerrida, finance, Romero Robledo, interior; Martin Herrera, public works; Admiral Topete, marine.

The Spanish ambassadors here have not resigned.

LONDON, Sept. 12.—Private advices from Paris say the new Spanish ministry represents the triumph of the principle of universal suffrage. Canovas Del Castillo will probably be president of the Chamber of Deputies in the new Cortes.

The Orleans Princes Renounce their Claim.

PARIS, Sept. 12.—La France declares it has trustworthy information that a change is likely to take place in the politics of the right centre; that it is due to the advice of the Orleans princes, who are said to be about to renounce all claims to the throne and adhere to the Republic.

WEST INDIES.

An Embargo Removed.

HAVANA, Sept. 11.—Government has given permission for the importation of foreign potatoes.

PACIFIC COAST NEWS.

CALIFORNIA.

Excursion of Stock Brokers to Virginia City.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 11.—A large number of brokers and stock operators will start on a special train of palace cars on Tuesday next on a visit to Virginia City.

A Reward for Bravery.

Col. A. W. Von Schmidt was to-day presented with a Jürgensen gold watch, imported for the purpose, valued at $750, by Wells, Fargo & Co., for his services in repelling an attack of highwaymen on the Quincy stage, last month, and saving Wells, Fargo & Co.'s treasure box.

Fratricide.

Shortly after 8 o'clock this evening a young man named Edward Bittenbender shot and killed his brother George at the entrance to 652 Washington street, below Kearny. The brothers, who are scarcely more than boys, had quarreled during the afternoon at the Brooklyn Hotel, where they lived, being nephews of Andrews, who keeps the hotel. This evening they met on Kearny street, and, as nearly as can be ascertained, Edward followed George to the place above named, on Washington street, drew a pistol and shot him from behind, the ball penetrating the brain. No immediate provocation was shown for the act, which at present has the appearance of deliberate murder. The deceased was a student at the Toland Medical College. Edward was at once arrested and lodged in the city prison.

Revenue Agent Looking for Whisky Frauds.

Clark, government agent, who has been investigating the whisky ring on this coast, has found it necessary to the satisfactory prosecution of this work, to have supervisor Foulke transferred to Richmond, Va., while Gen. Hawley, of New York, will take charge here. The investigation will then be continued, and it is known that the system of fraud and corruption unearthed in the west, will be found to have extended to this coast.

Sale of Bank of California Property.

It is reported, on what is believed to be good authority, that Flood & O'Brien have purchased from the Bank of California the San Francisco refinery works and acid works; also, considerable mill property in the wards, aggregating in the neighborhood of four hundred thousand dollars.

Murder at Virginea Canon.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 11.—Maj. Banks, who was brought into the county hospital yesterday from Virginea Canon, died of his wounds this morning. He was shot on Monday in a difficulty with a man named DeGray, who is still at large. Coroner Richardson this morning held an inquest. Deceased came to his death from gunshot wounds from the hands of Chas. DeGray.

Railroad Matters.

Col. Jackson, chief superintendent of the Los Angeles and Independence railroad, arrived here yesterday. All rumors relative to the sale of the Southern Pacific are denied.

Collection Day.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 12.—To-morrow will be the semi-monthly mercantile collection day. The money market is in a somewhat easier condition, and it is believed a little mutual forbearance will enable all to pass the ordeal without disaster. Thus far, merchants have shown a universal disposition to help each other and avoid pushing claims to such an extent as to embarrass each other.

The Banks.

The prospect of the opening of the Bank of Nevada by the 1st proximo, and the expectation of early resumption by the Bank of California, have tended to increase a confident feeling in business circles, and large transfers of coin from the treasury and receipts from the mint have had a favorable effect.

The action of the National Gold Bank and Trust Company in accomplishing a gradual resumption instead of hoarding coin against a formal opening have been of material assistance to the money market. This institution is now doing a general business, with no signs of any run upon its resources.

The syndicate of the Bank of California is continuing preparations for resumption, with no special new developments to report.

Greenbacks, 89¾ buying, 90¼ selling.

Suicide.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 12.—An elderly gentleman named Christopher Leeper has for a long time occupied the back room of basement No. 1, Sherwood Place, off Third. He has lived a lonely, hermit-like life, and has been missing since last Monday. To-day parties in the house were attracted by a stench proceeding from his room. The door was fast on the inside. Breaking the window they saw Leeper sitting on a rude framework, which served the purpose of bed and seat. The coroner was summoned, and the door forced. Leeper was leaning against the wall with a navy revolver with one chamber empty clutched in his hand and a bullet wound in his head. He had evidently been dead several days. The body was in an advanced stage of decomposition, and removed to the morgue. Chests and trunks and a great amount of odds and ends were in the room. It is rumored that deceased had valuables to a considerable amount on the premises, and a deposit in the Hiberoia Savings Bank. Everything in the room was nailed up pending an investigation to-morrow.

Struck a Ledge—Reception to a Successful Candidate.

CALISTOGA, Sept. 12.—Calistoga mine has struck a ledge in the lower tunnel and has a fine showing.

A. Badlam was received at the depot last night by his numerous friends of this place with a salute and fireworks.

California State Fair.

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 12.—The gamblers and short card men from all parts of the State are here in full force to commence operations when the fair opens. The chief of police will vigorously enforce the law governing them. Active preparations for the fair are going on at the pavilion and Agricultural Park, and to-morrow the society will let the privileges for selling refreshments at both places. The railroad company have commenced the work of filling the slough for new buildings and track purposes.

Mose Drew, sheriff elect, was serenaded last night.

The following are the entries for the State Fair: Handicap race, dash of two miles, for a purse of $300, with $100 entrance. Pritchard names Flush and Lottie Lee, formerly Flora; Donathan names Irene Harding; and Winters enters Ballot Box.

UTAH.

Causes of the Indian Troubles.

DEER CREEK, Sept. 11.—Indian interpreter, Wm. Lee, from Grantsville, Utah, arrived last night to inquire into the cause of the Indian trouble. He had an interview with the Indians to-day and found that there were two circumstances connected with the affair. First, there were a few prospectors who came to Indian Tobe's camp in Snake valley, during his and his squaw's absence. When they returned to the camp the white men offered Tobe $50 for his squaw, which he refused. They then wanted him to show them a quartz ledge and spring on the mountain. When they arrived at the ledge one of them fell behind a rock and drew his pistol. The Indian discovering the act started to run, when the white man fired four shots at him, one striking him in the back, slightly wounding him. No shots were fired by the Indian. The other circumstances occurred in the Sacramento county district, Spring valley. A white man discovered two Indians, one riding a horse, he had lost a year previous, and appraised him of the fact, and that he wanted the horse. The Indian refused to give it up and ran away. The white man procured the help of eight other men, intercepted the Indians as they were passing a ranch and fired on them, killing both Indians. No white men were hurt. These are all the facts that can be ascertained of the killing of either white or red men. The Indians say they want no fighting with white men, but want to live peacefully, and if white men are determined to kill them they can't help it.

Return of an Exploration Party.

SALT LAKE, Sept. 11.—The division of Major Powell's exploring party in charge of A. H. Thompson has arrived at Gunnison, Utah, on the road for home, having concluded their explorations for the season.

Utah Northern Railroad.

The election of directors of the Utah Northern railroad took place at Logan, Utah, to-day. The following persons were elected: Jno. W. Young, Salt Lake; Jos. Richardson, New York; R. M. Bassett, Birmingham, Conn.; M. Salisbury, Washington; Oliver Ames, Boston; Chas. M. Schofield, New York; M. Thatcher, Logan; Lorin Far, Ogden; Samuel Smith, Brigham, Utah; Jos. Merrill, Richmond, Utah; Brigham, Jr., Logan, Utah; W. B. Preston, Logan; L. H. Hatch, Franklin, Idaho.

The Sulphur Bed Murderer.

CARSON, Sept. 11.—The following is from this evening's Tribune: "The hearing of the case of J. W. Rover, the Sulphur Bed murderer, in the supreme court, is set for next Monday, at which time it will be determined whether he shall have a new trial or suffer the extreme penalty of the law. At present he is seriously ill in jail, at Winnemucca.

LETTER FROM SEATTLE.

SEATTLE, Friday, Sept. 10, 1874.

Down the Wallamet and Columbia, over the great North Pacific road and across the beautiful Sound, I come to Seattle "to see what I could see." Well, first came the Salvador, of the Pacific Steamship line, for 600 tons of coal and all, the passengers she could get from the regular line. Fare dropped today to $7 50 cabin and $4 steerage, and there seems to be a lively acceptance of the bid.

Seattle is lively—intensely so—and just now religious bodies help on the liveliness of the occasion. By the steamer came a new pastor for the Congregational Church. The M. E. Church is holding a quarterly meeting, and the Baptists of Puget Sound are rallying at their ANNUAL ASSOCIATION.

The body convened this (Friday) morning, at 10 o'clock, and listened to Elder G. B. Hewitt, lately settled at Olympia in place of Judge R. S Greene, resigned on account of health. A new church was welcomed from Centreville, and several delegates welcomed from other bodies. The letters read from the churches were all hopeful and earnest. Elder Wirth, of Seattle, who so much grieved our Oregon City brethren by leaving them, is doing a good work here and earning a good reputation. Resolutions were offered looking to the appointment of a general missionary in the Sound country, and committees were appointed for several purposes. The session promises to be an important one in its movements and efforts. More anon.

JONATHAN.

RELIGIOUS ITEMS.

Rev. James Hall, the new minister for the Congregational Church of Seattle, arrived on the steamship Pacific last week.

Rev. J. B. H. Hewett has been called by the Baptist Society of Olympia to the ministry in their church. He accepted the call this week, and will hereafter serve the people of that place.

The corner-stone of the Presbyterian chapel at Port Townsend was laid on the 6th inst. by Deputy Grand Master Thomas Cranev, assisted by the grand officers of the grand lodge of Washington Territory. The ceremony was very imposing.

The shinplaster lunatics who think a promise to pay money is money, in all their historical researches on the subject have overlooked the plainest and best example of the successful operation of their theory of finance. Did not Mr. Wilkins Micawber successfully discharge his numerous financial obligations of Mr. Thomas Traddles by exactly this method? and did he not afterwards become a magistrate in Australia? The greenback plan worked like a charm for him—though some fastidious readers of that veracious chapter of history will persist in asking how it worked for Traddles.

THE TERRITORIES.

The telegraph line has been completed between Boise and Silver City.

Seattle had a slight shock of earthquake on Thursday night of last week.

The fare by the steamer North Pacific, from Olympia to Victoria, has been increased to $7 50.

The Atlantic mine, in Alturas county, Idaho, has been sold to the Buffalo Gold and Silver Mining Company for $15,000.

The annual session of the Grand Lodge of Good Templars for Washington Territory and British Columbia will be held in Olympia commencing on Wednesday.

No vessels are now at Schoune, though the same are still in the trade that have been for the last 18 months. The mine is being worked as usual, and 75 or 80 tons a day are got out.

Seattle in its general aspect presents an appearance of industry, energy and speculation. The streets are alive with human beings, and all seem to feel as though they were to hurry.

We are credibly informed by one in connection with coal interests in Seattle, that at least fifteen thousand dollars per month are paid out by the several coal companies near Seattle.

The internal revenue collections for Washington Territory for the past thirteen years, since the law went into effect in 1862 to the close of the fiscal year ending June 30, 1875, was $559,105 00.

The Cabell quartz gold mine of Elk creek, Grant county, is, we learn, in a flourishing condition. A few days ago Mr. Campbell, the proprietor, was offered $100,000 cash for the mine, but he declined taking it.

The Tacoma fishery is under the superintendence of Aaron G. T. Sutton, a fisherman of twenty years' experience on the Columbia river and Shoalwater bay. They employ twenty hands, men and women; their average catch has been fifteen hundred salmon a day. The run has lately decreased, and they are now getting them ready to ship; they have one hundred barrels on hand ready for the market.

The total taxable property of San Juan county, W. T., this year is $132,848; county revenue, including poll tax, $1,378 78; school and territorial tax, each, $531 39. County debt from last year, $184, besides $350 due Whatcom county, of the $1,000 that was adjudged to be paid the latter county by San Juan, when it was set off from Whatcom. The number of inhabitants in San Juan is 550; of families, 102.

Mr. John M. Bateman and family arrived in Seattle last week from Indiana, coming all the way in their own conveyance, the old-fashioned emigrant wagon drawn by four mules. Crossing the plains they followed the line of the railroad, sleeping out of doors every night since last March. They started from Indiana on the 19th of May, 1874, and, excepting four months spent in Kansas last winter, have been ever since traveling on their long journey.

The Puget Sound Courier says: "Some two months ago the waters of the upper bay, near town, were tinged with some substance of a green color that made them look like a green dye. For a few days past they have again been colored, but this time the tinge is almost a blood red. We suppose the cause of these discolorations to be myriads of minute animalcule, but of what kind we must at present confess ignorance. Some of our local savans or scientists would here find a good field for investigation."

A correspondent writes this to the Courier: Upon the land of Mr. Webb, of Mason county, W. T., is a cedar tree which is 45 feet in circumference three feet above the ground. This tree has been burnt out by the fire, leaving a hollow in it large enough to think five men on horseback might ride and remain at one time as long as curiosity or necessity might require, with ease and comfort. Near this monarch of the forest is another one, also a cedar, which seems to have been blown down by the wind and is burnt out like the other, within whose old, charred walls I think ten men on horseback might at one time find comfortable shelter. California is not the only place where big trees may be found.

FARMING ITEMS.

Wheat is selling at 95 cents per bushel at Forest Grove.

The Jackson county fair will be held Oct. 21st, 22d and 23d.

Lane county farmers are investing some money in Angora goats. There is a band of 1,700 in that county on sale.

Mr. Gleason's wheat, on the Tualatin river bottom, averaged 40 bushels to the acre. Mr. Murray raised 106 bushels on two and a half acres of ground in Walker's addition.

In Yamhill county crops so far, we believe, have escaped damage from the recent rains, and will be harvested in good condition. Another week, at the farthest, will wind up the harvesting in that county.

Farmers in Oregon can do well. The Yamhill Courier says: "Ten years ago Mr. F. S. Glandon came to this county. His worldly goods consisted of a four-horse team and wagon. This year he raised over $3,000 worth of produce. Monday he drew pay for his wheat crop—$1,950. He owns 1,100 acres of land, worth $23,000, besides horses, cattle, etc., etc. Mr. G. has rented his farm and proposes to travel with his family over the scenes of bygone days."

In the Puyallup valley everything is lively, as all are in "hops." The estimated yield is 1,000 pounds to the acre. Everybody is anxious to get help. For the occasion they have imported 150 Chinamen and absorbed all the Indians in the country. The Chinamen get 90 cents a day, without board; others get five cents a bushel, or 50 cents to $1 a box. A great many farmers have just completed their dry houses, which have cost on an average $1,000 each. For heating purposes they use alder wood, and a strange fact connected with the heating furnace is that, after getting the furnace thoroughly he

MONDAY MORNING, SEPT. 13, 1875.

LANE THE ELOQUENT.

Somebody in Jacksonville has written the Evening Journal a letter stating that in the discussion in that place Warren's speech was a very weak and silly affair, but that the effort of Lafayette Lane was "just to the contrary." It is further declared, upon the authority of this correspondent, that Lane's speech "from commencement to the end was made up of forcible and telling sentences." It may be true that Mr. Warren did not show himself a great orator. He does not pretend to be such, and his friends do not claim that qualification for him. He is a man of good strong common sense, of proved efficiency, of unquestioned integrity, of sober, temperate habits, of unblemished moral character. If a man having these qualities is not a suitable man to represent Oregon in the National Congress Warren is not the man for the place. We confess to an opinion that these are just the qualities that should be regarded as indispensable to every public servant. They are more desirable than eloquence, diction or a glib tongue, and to be accounted of far greater weight than the endorsement of any party convention.

As to the story of Mr. Lane's splendid effort, we are a little sceptical in spite of the high authority upon which the statement is made. Those who have personal knowledge of Mr. Lane's style of oratory will take, with several grains of allowance, any story that attributes "forcible and telling sentences" to him. It is not his way. True, Lafayette talks in an easy sort of movement, but he never says anything; and a man who says nothing cannot fill up his discourse with "forcible and telling sentences." Lafayette is a pleasant gentleman, but to adopt the language of the "manly art," he is a "light weight." As a thinker he is superficial, as a speaker illogical. He has no well digested views, and his argument is constituted of boyish anecdote and gingerpop rhetoric. That at all events was the case a few years ago, and we are reliably informed there has been no improvement. So we advise people, who are expecting to vote for Lane as the coming Demosthenes, to go a little slow, and not make up their minds too firmly till after they witness one of his performances.

FROM THE DEMOCRATIC STANDPOINT.

It appears that the Democrats of North Carolina are still bending their energies to the solution of the old conundrum, "How would you like for your daughter to marry a nigger?" That is the inference to be drawn from the reported proceedings of the constitutional convention now in session. The report is that they are proceeding to define the social and legal relations of the races, and it is specially mentioned that one of the points to be made is the prohibition of intermarriage between white and colored people. We should not, if we could, interpose any obstacle to prevent those who are afraid of being married out of their natural places, from hedging themselves about with legal defenses, for this must be a very trying situation to be in; but we can not help feeling a little surprised to find the Democracy of the South so soon forgetting the lesson of the period immediately preceding the late unpleasantness" and resorting to the self-same measures for protection against the mixture of blood which, under far more favorable circumstances, proved wholly ineffectual. Laws prohibiting these marriages are not a novelty. They existed before the war, and when the political and legal status of the colored people aided in their enforcement by offering a much stronger barrier to such unions than at this time; and yet somehow or other the blood of the two races did get so badly mixed in a large proportion of the country, and notably in the sovereign Democratic commonwealth of North Carolina that the coloring matter was well nigh worked out of the colored people. If such legislation was of so little effect then, what is to be expected from it now? We sympathize with all persons, white or black, who have not sufficient personal character to protect themselves against being drawn into such social relations with their inferiors as will bring them into disrepute and taint their blood; but we entertain grave apprehensions that all endeavors to keep the Democratic blood of the Old North State pure by legal enactment will prove delusive. It may be, however, that the object of the ordinance introduced into the convention is not to prevent the mixing of blood, but merely to save the Democratic voters from the ordinary legal responsibilities of such a mixture, that is to compel them to mix it only "from the Democratic stand point." If that is the purpose in view, the law may be a success.

INDUSTRIAL EXPOSITIONS.

The industrial exposition is one of the most useful as well as popular of modern institutions. It benefits the various industrial classes of society—and American society is nearly all industrial—in divers ways, directly and indirectly. The stimulus imparted by it to mechanical industry and invention, and the different branches of agriculture, tends powerfully to develop the best possibilities of applied science. There is nothing, from a toothpick to a railway, from a shoe peg to a steamship, which is not made the subject of efforts at improvement and represented in these great competitive exhibitions. They also benefit the intellectual, social and moral nature of mankind, by bringing people into closer relationship and more frequent intercourse, by giving occasion for exchange of thought and comparison of notes. Nothing but the competitive exhibition of the products of their labor and skill could draw the classes most interested in such matters out from their homes and into the society of each other so much as this institution does. Think of the multitude who visited the great inter-State exposition at Chicago last Saturday. Over 25,000 people in one day! What else could have brought these 25,000 out of their workshops and farms and counting houses? And what else, if it could have secured their attention, would have done them so much good in every way? The industrial exposition, whether it pass under that name or that of county or State fair, is a thing to be encouraged for the temporary pleasure it gives and for the permanent benefits it confers on the people.

The rebellion in Mississippi has collapsed and peace has been restored. It is too bad that the President did not send the army down there and place it at the disposal of Gov. Ames forthwith, instead of waiting to satisfy himself whether there was any occasion for Federal interference or not. How can Ames, even, zealous and efficient as he is, keep Mississippi politics in a healthy state, if such delays as this are to attend upon his demands for assistance? The President must have taken a scare at the Louisiana case, or else his adviser at the head of the Department of Justice is wanting in promptness. When we remember with what enthusiastic approbation the quick response and vigorous action in the Louisiana case were hailed by the people, and especially by the leading Republicans of the country, we cannot but think the dilatory course adopted in this Mississippi business will prove a great blow to the popularity of the administration; for in that case at least one-third of the party excused, if they did not positively approve, the interference in the organization of a State Legislature. It seems to be the misfortune of the country just now that the cabinet is to a considerable extent composed of men who regard the Constitution as of more importance than the party.

The detection and capture of Hamiston, alias Smith, the mail robber, does credit to the officers by whom it was accomplished. No doubt the newspaper criticism to which they were subjected a few months ago was an efficient spur to their efforts. The work is done, however, and from all we can learn well done, and the credit should not be withheld. Hamiston will in all probability soon have to relinquish the embraces of his friend's wife whom he took along with him for company, and take up his abode with the genial Watkinds, under whose kindly instruction he will engage in the useful art of making red bricks.

The Indian war in Nevada was not a war at all, but a scare. It was a scare both ways. It grew out of a misunderstanding raised by a drunken and troublesome Indian, and although the Indian population of the State were thrown into great perturbation for a time and made show of fight, they dispersed with the expression of a wish that the fellow had been killed, when they found out the true state of affairs. It is a fortunate thing that the truth became known before a general engagement occurred, as it would have been impossible afterwards to avert a protracted and bloody Indian war.

It has been said the wheat of this year is not quite so fine in quality as that of last year, but we learn from different parts of the state that this is not generally true. Some few fields were affected unfavorably by the warm, dry weather in July, but the bulk of the harvest is equal to that of last season. We were shown, Saturday, a sample of fall wheat from the farm of Hon. W. T. Newby, of Yamhill county, the berry of which is as large and plump as any we have ever seen, and he states that the same is true of all fields in that section, which were well put in.

Extensive preparations are making for the Washington county fair. The agricultural society of that county never fails to have its annual gatherings up to every requirement. They have the best possible backing in the enterprising farmers of the county, who are always on hand with as good a showing, both of field products and fine stock, as can be found in the state.

Another shipwreck on Lake Michigan, with the loss of all on board, is reported. These disasters have been more numerous this year than in 1874, and there were more of them in that year than ever before. The disasters on the lakes this year exceed those on the ocean.

To-day is election day in Maine. Shouldn't be surprised to hear of its going Republican.

LOTS AND BLOCKS FOR SALE

IN THE

West Portland Homestead Association.

Lots from $75 to $150, according to Locality.

ALSO, HOMESTEAD LOTS AT $200 PER ACRE, within 20 minutes' walk of the Court House, or business portion of the city, where there is pure water, pure air, no ague, no city taxes and no nuisances. Blocks sold on the installment plan. We give a great deal of ground to the acre, too. We give 213 feet square to the acre on the surface, running a little over four thousand miles down to the fire-proof China, and all for $200. This land was never made for that price, and if the man who made it pays any attention to terrestrial affairs, he must feel very bad to see the fruits of his labor sell so much below first cost. This is perfect. A warrantee deed from the foot of China to the top of the skies, and Uncle Sam's patent to back us.

For particulars refer to DELASHMUTT & OATMAN, se6d1m Retail Bankers. Or C. M. CARTER.

FOR SALE.

DARING JUVENILE ROBBERY.—Between 8 and 9 o'clock last Saturday evening the furniture store of Messrs. Rummelin & Gutmann, on First street was entered by some juvenile thieves and the sum of $74 abstracted from the drawer. The whole job, it appears, was "put up" and engineered through by a small boy named Willie Reynard, not more than [illegible] years of age. His accomplices in the crime were Charles Carroll, Geo. Thorn, and a boy named Dougherty. The store was entered while one of the partners was absent at the postoffice, the other being engaged at the time at work in the rear part of the store. A partition extends across the room dividing the shop from the store. At the moment the door leading from one to the other was closed and young Reynard noiselessly entered the room and unobserved took the money from the drawer. Usually the drawer was kept locked, but on the evening in question the key had thoughtlessly been left in the hole, thus giving the little thief an excellent opportunity to help himself to the contents. The whole thing had been planned by Reynard and executed in a cautious and deliberate manner worthy of a much older and more experienced hand. On Friday he sought some trivial pretext and entered the store for the purpose of reconnoitering and studying the situation of things. He discovered where the drawer was located, and, by some inexplicable means, ascertained that there were no bells attached to it. Having gained that important information, he posted his confrere, and quietly waited for an opportunity. Saturday evening furnished him with one. After getting the money, Reynard divided up the guns among his three comrades, keeping, as a matter of course, the lion's share. The boys then had a "high old time," indulging in oyster suppers, ice cream, and other luxuries, purchasing, among numerous articles, a drum and a quantity of firecrackers, besides having a sail. The money was missed early on Sunday morning and Chief Lappeus apprised of the robbery. With the assistance of several policemen, he began to ferret out the case. Suspicion rested at once on these boys, resulting in the capture of the whole party last evening after a long search and lively chase. These boys are now lodged in jail and will be arraigned this morning in police court on the grave charge of grand larceny. Up to a late hour last evening, but $30 25

The money was missed early on Sunday morning and Chief Lappeus apprised of the robbery. With the assistance of several policemen, he began to ferret out the case. Suspicion rested at once on these boys, resulting in the capture of the whole party last evening after a long search and a lively chase. These boys are now lodged in jail and will be arraigned this morning in police court on the grave charge of grand larceny. Up to a late hour last evening, but $50 of the $74 had been recovered. The offenders are all well known in the city and have very bad reputations.

SUICIDE, NOT MURDERED.—When the body of the person, whose name it was subsequently ascertained was Theodore M. Braren, was found floating in the river a few days ago, it could not be decided whether he had committed suicide, or had been dealt with foully. The fact that a heavy stone was found attached to one of the wrists by means of a rope, in a somewhat suspicious manner, gave strong coloring to the supposition that the man had been murdered for his money. After a careful examination of the case, the jury summoned by the coroner returned a verdict to that effect. But from fresh evidence discovered yesterday, new light is thrown upon the mysterious affair, and the question as to whether deceased was murdered or had deliberately destroyed himself, settled beyond doubt. Yesterday while two men were walking along the bank of the river just below Weidler's mill, they espied an envelope fastened in between a split stick. One end of the stick was sharpened and pushed down into the sand, just in the edge of the water. Tempted by that curiosity so common to human nature, the men stopped to examine the envelope. On examination they discovered that the envelope contained a letter. Part of the letter was written in German and part in English. With considerable difficulty they deciphered some of the writing, and discovering that it related to a person who evidently contemplated suicide, they brought the letter up and gave it to Chief Lappeus. Last night we called and inspected the letter. Across the back of one page the following lines were dimly traced in a scrawling hand with a lead pencil:

Please tell my sister about me. Three months ago my girl got married. Seifert & Calter has got the best of me for $80 for work on the Custom Chief. I owe about $100 to different parties. I have been sick about three and a half months. I can't stand up to my troubles. I am going to hunt my mother; she died in 1849, and tell her how they treated me after her death. Good-bye to all.

T. M. BRAREN.

I was born in 1838, 28th day of March, and I have been a hard life up to this time.

On the back of the envelope was dimly written the following: "I am going to drown myself right here for honesty." Following this was some other writing, but it was undecipherable.

On the other side of the page was written a letter in German, penned by a brother-in-law of Braren. The letter bore date of Chicago, July 29, 1875, signed Martin Coltor, whose place of residence was No. 64 Kossuth street. The letter is now in possession of Chief Lappeus.

MAIL ROBBER CAPTURED.—Elsewhere will be found a correspondence in relation to the pursuit and final capture of the stage driver, Dan Smith, who, it is claimed, committed the postal robbery which has of late been the subject of so much newspaper comment. Smith was a stage driver by occupation and generally and familiarly known as "Dan Smith." About a year ago Smith eloped from Umpqua, taking with him the wife of a friend, named Montgomery. From here he went back to his old home in Iowa, where his mother is still residing. It turned out that Smith's real name is Hamilston, and that he was traveling cut west under an assumed name. Hamilston remained several months in Iowa, when, accompanied by his paramour, he turned his face eastward, proceeding directly to Philadelphia. Here it was ascertained that he sold the gold dust which was obtained in the mail [illegible] Postal Agent Underwood and a man named Fullerton, of Roseburg, tracked the fugitive from this State to San Francisco, thence to his old home, and afterward to Philadelphia. Reaching that city, these men ascertained that Hamiston had turned his footsteps southward. He was successively traced from place to place and at length overhauled somewhere in Texas. We understand that the prisoner and his captors are now en route for this state and may be expected soon.

ACROSS THE PLAINS.—On Saturday we were reminded of the early days of this State, when the only additions to its population came the plains across. We were called upon by Messrs. Wm. and S. B. Gilpin, father and son, who have just arrived overland from Missouri, after a four months' journey, one month of which was spent in Eastern Oregon. The train was wholly made up of the family of Mr. Wm. Gilpin, sons and sons-in-law and their families, consisting in all of 30 persons, with nine wagons drawn by horses and mules. They left Missouri on the 6th of May, and made the journey without accident, finding their only trouble in scarcity of grass on Snake river. A portion of the party came down the river from the Dalles and the remainder crossed the Cascade mountains by the Barlow road, and were expected to reach the valley last Saturday. The old gentleman is an uncle of Mr. Stott, at four months of Sandy, who vouches for the party as being a hard-working, industrious people who will prove a valuable addition to the State. They will remain at his place, until they find homes for themselves. They are pleased so far with what they have seen, and we know they will not regret their move in the future.

PASSENGERS COMING.—Last Saturday afternoon the steamship Oriflamme sailed from San Francisco for Portland. She brings the following passengers: L. H. Lewis and wife, Thos. Chapman, G. M. Fisher, Miss Fisher, Mrs. M. Vedder, L. Root and wife, Mrs. A. A. Stevens, Miss S. French, G. F. Suttle, W. Ire, J. Selling, A. Gerault, Miss A. Hensley, Miss J. McNamara, Mrs. M. E. Erfurt, H. Benedict, P. T. Dickinson, W. Drummond, A. B. Crossman, Mrs. R. Pochlman, Mrs. McCabe and two children, Mrs. L. Goodrann, Mrs. C. McKay and two children, Mrs. J. L. Quackenbush and two children, I. B. Glotcher, J. MacMahon, Mrs. W. S. Sumner and child, Mrs. E. Spaulding and child, H. T. Blackwell, C. Benett, W. H. Pitchford, H. E. Dosch, Miss Dosch, Miss J. E. Forbes, A. Conwall, Mrs. M. P. Morse, Mrs. S. Farmer, Thos. Wann, I. Harris, J. A. Cottle, Rev. W. Norton and wife.

MEETING.—The regular meeting of the Trustees of the Exempt Firemen's Association will be held this (Monday) evening at the Council Chamber at 7½ o'clock. All the Trustees are expected to be present.

WANTS TO KNOW.—A correspondent wants some information about the incessant noise occasioned by the steam whistles on the fire engines while going to fires and returning from the same. It seems reasonable enough when going to the fire that an occasional signal may be given by the engineer, but when they keep up a continual noise by starting those whistles and keeping the infernal music in motion on the entire route, it is too much for any mortal to endure. The worst feature of this perpetual whistling is that it disturbs the entire community when there is no necessity for it. A signal at intervals of five or ten minutes seems quite sufficient to apprize the average fireman of the whereabouts of a fire and his company. The nuisance should be abated to a certain extent at least. Will the chief engineer take action in the premises, and thus confer a favor on those who are thus unnecessarily disturbed?

EXPERIMENTING—ITS RESULTS.—Giant powder is a very useful agent, but as a plaything it isn't much of a success. That is the conclusion to which a boy—son of Dr. McBride, of St. Helens—very hastily arrived at a few days since. Like a young philosopher who cut open the balloon to find the wind, the lad began to investigate the nature of the explosive compound. During the absence of the father the boy discovered some giant powder caps in the house. Forthwith he commenced investigations in behalf of the cause of science by picking at the metallic casing with the point of a penknife. His experiment was a perfect success and entirely satisfied his juvenile curiosity. No sooner did the sharp point of the knife penetrate the compound than an explosion occurred. When the youth picked himself up he discovered that his right hand had two fingers less than before he began to make investigations.

EDUCATIONAL.—From Prof. J. D. Robb, of Pacific University and Tualatin Academy, we learn that that institution of learning is now in a very prosperous condition. Studies were resumed at the university and an unusually large number of students enrolled. The coming school year gives promise of being very successful. A musical department has been added to the institution, under the immediate instruction of Miss Sarah S. Bowlby, daughter of Dr. W. Bowlby. Instrumental—piano and organ—and vocal music will be taught to those desiring instructions in those branches. Prof. Thomas Condon, State Geologist, has been tendered a chair—that of Natural History—and accepted the same. Mrs. Spiller, a graduate of Mount Holyoke Seminary, Mass., is preceptress of the institution.

FELL IN A FIT.—Hugh Starr, a well-known tinner of this city, and son of B. F. Starr, fell in a fit on Saturday night, and up to a late hour last night he had not become conscious. He had entered a barber shop on First street for the purpose of taking a bath. While standing in the bath room he was suddenly seized, and fell insensible to the floor. The noise of falling alarmed the person who was in attendance, and on opening the door he found Starr lying on the floor in an unconscious condition. He was removed to the Occidental hotel and medical aid hastily summoned. At last accounts the condition of the young man was such as to warrant but slender hopes of recovery.

THE "OREGONIAN."—This clipper-built sailboat was launched from Mr. John LaChapelle's boathouse yesterday at an early hour. The event was signalized by the usual refreshments and an outpouring of lovers of the delightful pastime. Quite a number of representatives from this office and their friends made frequent voyages during the day in the Oregonian and the universal expression was, "She is a traveler." The day was well suited for such an occasion. We congratulate Mr. LaChapelle and his assistants—Wm. Ingate, Richard Harper and Alfred Wilkeson—on the success of the new and handsome craft—the last turnout from the boathouse—known as the Oregonian.

BADLY HURT.—A gentleman who arrived in this city about 9 o'clock last evening, informs us that just as he was preparing to leave Hillsboro, a boy came hurriedly up to the town from the Washington County Fair grounds for a physician, stating that the well known horse trainer Bill Tompkins had been kicked by a powerful horse which he was handling, and, it was feared, hurt dangerously. The animal kicked him on the left side and in the breast, and the messenger who was sent for the doctor said Mr. Tompkins was entirely unconscious from the time the wound was received. We may learn more of the particulars to-day.

FALSE ALARM.—The fire alarm struck from box 9 (corner of E and Eighth streets) at 10 o'clock last night proved to be false. The result was a general rush of the department for that end of the city, all for nothing. The practice of giving false alarms should be stopped. An ordinance is in force relative to such cases, and we trust to hear of an "example," when the occasion requires enforcement, as in the present instance.

FRACTURED CLAVICLE.—F. R. Neal, City Marshal of East Portland, while out buggy riding on Saturday with two other gentlemen, met with a painful accident. The team took fright and starting forward suddenly, threw the three men out. Fortunately they fell on a heap of sand or the result might have been more disastrous. Mr. Neal sustained a fracture of the collar bone, while the other persons escaped with a few scratches.

KALAMA SCHOOL.—The public school in the city of Kalama commenced on Monday, September 6th. The district has erected a fine new school house, and secured the services of S. Vestal, a graduate of the Wesleyan University, at Delaware, Ohio, and a thoroughly competent and experienced teacher, and will provide an assistant whenever the number of pupils demand it.

MONTHLY MEETING.—This (Monday) evening, at 8 o'clock, the regular monthly meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association will be held. Important business will be on the tapis, and a full attendance is desired.

SALE OF REAL ESTATE.—Saturday morning Mr. A. B. Richardson sold at auction a tract of land situated in Portland, and known as lots 1 and 2, in block 186, in all 33x100 feet. The purchase price was $1,300.

SALMON INSPECTION.—Henry L. Reeder, who resides on Sauvie's Island, was appointed inspector of salmon for Multnomah county last Saturday by the county clerk.

BRIEF NOTES.

The new Turn Verein hall will be enclosed by Wednesday.

The schooner Katie Heron arrived on Saturday from Tillamook with a full cargo.

The Bonita is on the line to-day, the damage to her rudders and wheel having been repaired.

At 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon the Annie Stewart arrived from down the Columbia, light.

LaChapelle's boats were nearly all out yesterday. It was a good day for rowing and sailing.

There is a dangerous snag in the river opposite the foot of Taylor street which should be removed.

The bark Rival reached here from San Francisco on Saturday with a large assorted cargo of merchandise.

L. P. W. Quimby, Mr. Scribner, Chas. Perkins and Dave Monnastes returned yesterday from a successful hunt. The trophies are a buck weighing 307 lbs. and two does averaging 241 lbs.

PERSONAL.

Mr. A. Noltner, of the Oregon City Enterprise, was in the city on Saturday.

Judge Deady returned home Saturday, having spent some two weeks at the seaside.

Mr. Leon H Lewis and wife are among the passengers on board the incoming steamer.

Mr. Charles M. Brown, who is connected with Mr. A. S. Gross in the brokerage business, returned on Saturday evening overland from San Francisco, whither he went some days ago to look after certain interests.

POLICE COURT NOTES.

Frank Reilly, charged with assault and battery, was fined $20, and in default committed to the county jail.

Edward Burk, arrested on the charge of stealing a pair of blankets from the New York hotel, will be tried this morning.

OUT-DOOR SPORTS.

EXCITING RACE OVER RIVERSIDE COURSE BETWEEN MOLLIE, EPH MAYNARD AND BLACK RALPH—EPH TAKES THE PURSE.

Several hundred persons were in attendance at the White House last Saturday afternoon to witness the exciting race which came off over the Riverside Course. The horses which entered for the race were "Eph Maynard," by B. B. Acker; "Mollie," by J. J. Welsh, and "Unknown," by C. E. Bishop. The race was for a $500 purse, $350 for the first horse out, and $150 for the second—three best in five.

Pool selling went off quite lively for some time before the race was called, being conducted by Oscar Kilbourn. "Mollie" seemed to be the favorite, judging from the way in which her pools were disposed of. "Unknown" came next in public favor, while "Eph" brought up the rear. However, the judgment of the shrewdest observers of horse flesh went wide of the mark, for the sequel shows that the most unpopular animal carried off the purse, and the honors of the day, and the favorite was distanced in each heat and finally ruled out.

A little after 3 o'clock the race was called. Messrs. Hum. Boyd, John Green and S. Sherlock were chosen judges. Eph Maynard was driven by B. B. Acker, Unknown by Mr. Ellis, while Jimmy Welch held the ribbons over the wiry little Mollie. In tossing for choice of positions, Acker won the "pole," Welch the middle and Ellis the outside. Preliminaries having all been arranged, the drivers were ordered to make ready to start for the first heat. After considerable jockeying among the drivers, the horses got off pretty evenly, Mollie, after the first quarter, led the way handsomely, taking and keeping the "pole." Unknown, which from the start showed that he possessed plenty of speed and bottom, pressed Mollie very hotly, and won the first heat in 2:42, Eph coming in last. In the second heat Unknown took the inside, the horses got a tolerable fair start. For some distance, Unknown led, but breaking badly several times, the fleet-footed Mollie came in and headed the black stranger off. She held her own until near the last quarter, when the black stallion came in with flying colors, just saving his credit by a scratch, winning the heat in 2:43. Between the first and second heats pools went off very lively, Unknown, by his handsome record thus far made, gaining greatly in popular favor. Much excitement prevailed, and there was a great deal of unnecessary delay in getting off on the third heat. Eight or nine efforts were made to get a start, but each time the judges were compelled to shout "Come back." Mr. Welsh, who, it was thought, was responsible in a great measure for the balking, was called up and severely reprimanded by the judges, which seemed to do that gentleman much good, for the horses got off the next trial, being the tenth start. This was the worst heat of the race, the black stallion and Eph breaking up badly and repeatedly. Eph, to the surprise of all, led off bravely after the first quarter, closely pressed by Unknown, and followed by Mollie. This little animal seemed to have lost her lick in this heat, for she not only broke often, but came in far behind the others. Many were of the opinion that the black stallion was entitled by all rules to the heat, as it was claimed that unfair play had been practiced by the other drivers. There was great excitement over the matter, and a great deal of loud talk indulged in. After considerable deliberation the judges gave the heat to "Eph"—time, 2:44—which announcement was received from the stand by the many friends of the stranger with hoots and jeers and other marked demonstrations of disapproval. "Mollie" having disappointed the expectations of her backers, in failing to win a single heat, was ruled out by the judges. The contest was now narrowed down to "Eph" and "Black Ralph," as his owner announced his name to be after the first heat. Bets and pool-selling went on with a new impetus, "Black Ralph" being still in popular favor. After some delay the horses were sent off on the fourth heat. It was a bad start and should not have been allowed by the judges, as "Eph" was more than a full length ahead of his sable competitor. "Black Ralph" did wretchedly after trotting smoothly for the first quarter, for some cause, breaking at intervals during the heat. "Eph" displayed a suprising amount of endurance and steady nerve, coming down to his work in dead earnest, never flagging, but increasing his speed toward the close of the heat. He broke considerable, but won the heat in 2:44.

Great excitement now prevailed, as the next was the fifth and last heat, and the result, whatever it might be, would settle the question. Both horses had won two heats each, and the third was for "blood." The word was called, and amidst the wildest excitement the horses were sent off. It was a pretty fair start, "Eph" having a little advantage again. There was a good deal of "skiving" done by both horses during this heat. "Eph" led off and kept gaining to the close, "Black Ralph" seeming to be not a little demoralized, breaking often and behaving badly. Amidst loud and prolonged shouts "Eph" won the heat in 2:44, thus carrying off the $350 purse. "Black Ralph" winning the $150 purse.

There was much feeling displayed among the crowd at what was claimed to be favoritism on the part of the judges in awarding to "Eph" the third heat. It was thought by many that the heat had been foully won by means of jockeying on the part of the other drivers. We do not feel warranted in expressing an opinion as to the question of favoritism claimed to have been manifested, and only allude to the matter because it was the subject of disparaging comment on the race grounds among the friends and backers of "Black Ralph." There appears to be a strong conviction among sporting men that the black stranger has plenty of speed and bottom, and if allowed a fair opportunity will "make it warm" for some of our Oregon trotters before the season is over. As the fairs are rapidly approaching the question of speed will, no doubt, be settled beyond dispute to the satisfaction of the public. "Black Ralph" is a large and handsomely formed horse, about 9 years old, jet black, and has only one eye. The animal, we understand, was raised near Sacramento, California, and has made a good record in the history of the turf in that state. What record he will make in Oregon remains to be seen. "He is no slouch," was the universal verdict of those who saw him trot on Saturday.

In conclusion, we tender our sincere obligations to Messrs. Acker & Miller, of the City Stables, for courtesies and favors generously shown us.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

The barkentine Jane A. Falkinburg is advertised to sail at an early date. Allen & Lewis are the agents.

The sale of dry goods by Mrs. Ach continues this week and until further notice, at 91 Front street. Rare bargains are offered. Take advantage of this opportunity. Note "ad." on second page.

Mr. Hasselman offers a fine opportunity to all who wish to secure the most elegant portraits of any size, and in the best styles. Mr. H. ranks very high in his profession, and his work will give the utmost satisfaction to his patrons.

John O'Neil & Co. have had a big rush to their closing out sales of goods damaged by the late fire. They announce the continuation of these sales for a few days only, as they propose to close everything out at once and at a sacrifice. You will never have such an opportunity to buy goods at a bargain as this again. The advertisement will explain fully.

WASHINGTON COUNTY FAIR.

Our enterprising correspondent at Hillsboro sends the following:

The Society has commenced the erection of the extra buildings, and the work will be pushed forward as rapidly as possible. The lumber is being delivered for all buildings that have been ordered. The stalls are all taken by horsemen, except three, and the new ones that are in process of erection, and Mr. Imbrie, the president of the society, informs us that it is the intention of the society to furnish all horses with stalls, that wish to come, if they will notify them in time to build, and all persons having hogs, cattle or sheep should notify the secretary, so that the places may be fitted up for them. The president says that stalls of any kind and quality, in reason, will be furnished cattle and sheep men, if they will only apply soon enough for the society to fit them up. This department will receive especial attention if contributors will only come forward in person or by letter, and make their wants known. The number of stalls or pens wanted should always be stated. The society are doing their best to accommodate all this year, and if any class feel slighted, they should remember that they have only to apply in time and get accommodations for their articles to be exhibited.

The directors have in contemplation the erection of a suitable place for machinery and agricultural implements, which is much needed. And we urge upon them the necessity of fostering this branch, so necessary to the building up of our county and state. For it should be remembered that the mechanic forges the way with which the sturdy husbandman unlocks the wealth of earth; for what would be the seed time and harvest without the implements to plant and reap.

The track is fast working down in a fine condition. Already a roadway for sulkies has been put in a good condition, while the inside is as good for running as any in the state. The sprinkler, roller and harrow will have the center of the track done for the fair. The horse Will Bingham will arrive to-day (Thursday), looking well, and all will put in an appearance by the middle of next week. There is but little doubt that the horse Osceola will be at the Washington county fair, and as Foster's stalls and feed are waiting for him, he certainly will come. Nell Flaherty, an extra fleet mare, will also contest for the coin at our fair. She is said to be better than Osceola or Foster. Also stalls have been taken for Butralph. The trotting this year bids fair to excel any heretofore. Some of the purest bloods are booked for the grounds, and all eyes are turned toward Reed's Autocrat, and the horse Mark Twain. Our people want a better class of roadsters, and much comment is going on as to the trotting qualities of various horses in the county and state.

HILLSBORO, Sept. 12, 1875.

S. G. Reed's stud, consisting of 13 horses, arrived on the fair ground on Friday, and are comfortably housed. They present the finest appearance of any I have ever seen on the coast. The entire lot of trotting horses are led by the thoroughbred Autocrat. Messrs. W. S. Ladd and S. G. Reed were out and spent the night on the grounds, also Mr. H. Boyd, the favorite superintendent of horses. The track is still heavy, but all express a hope that its condition will be much improved as work progresses. Mr. Bigham's father was taken out for a walk on Sunday, and admired by a large crowd of visitors. The horse does not like a crowd, for Mr. Tompkins had to take him in hand in order to quiet him down. The entire lot of horses are looking well that arrived on the grounds. There have been pens engaged for 1,000 head of sheep of different kinds.

On Saturday the president and board ordered a large pavilion erected for the accommodation of mechanics, and every mechanic should try and do something for the county and state as well as something for themselves. Let the mechanics come up and show their handy work, and as the display is increased, so will be the premiums.

Our advance in stock and agriculture has been marked with unprecedented success. Our imported blood ranks second to none. We have as good mechanics in Oregon as any place in the world. The old man Fogy died shortly after the birth of Progress, and it is futile to weep over dead men's bones. Brain and meat depend on keeping step with the rank and file, and intelligent mechanics should never allow themselves to fall behind.

The indications are that the exhibits in all departments will excel by half any year heretofore, and this fair will be the best ever had in the county. The society has made arrangements with the westside railroad so that traveling to and from the fair will be cheap. There will also be a chance during the fair to hear the candidates speak. The time for the speaking is the 27th, at 1 P. M., so that, between the candidates and running horses, I think we can get through the day.

MR. JOS. KOHN has gone to San Francisco for the purpose of purchasing new goods for the fall and winter trade. At his new and elegant Establishment, First and Morrison streets, he makes a grand display of clothing, furnishing goods, etc. Mr. Kohn knows exactly what his customers want and he has very sensibly filled his shelves with such goods as are sure to meet with satisfaction and the prices too are figured down to suit the times, in a few days he will make new announcements.

Caution!—In our changeable climate, coughs, colds, and diseases of the throat, lungs and chest will always prevail. Cruel consumption will claim its victims. These diseases if attended to in time, can be arrested and cured. The remedy is DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY.

"They Cure!" What cure? AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL for a Cough. AYER'S PILLS for a purgative, and AYER'S SARSAPARILLA for the complaints that require an alterative medicine.

PERSONAL.—Mr. M. Rosenblatt, of 79 Front street, returned last evening on the John L. Stephens, from San Francisco, with a large stock of Clothing, etc., for gentlemen and youths. This stock is worthy of inspection by all who desire a first class article. Be sure and call on him, and recollect the number.

BECK & WALDMAN have added largely to their stock of Clothing during the past week. Mr. Beck has selected many new and attractive styles and forwarded the first purchases, which are really the best to be seen in Portland. The variety of styles for youths are numerous, and no parent should fail to examine the articles. Take your boy and have him fitted. The firm have an immense stock for the fall and winter and offer special inducements to all.
